

Grandpa's Treasure

Grandpa was very sick last week. Suki was so upset and worried. Grandpa took out a map from the desk and gave it to Suki. Grandpa said, 'I hid a box of treasure under the tree long ago. When I am gone, go and find it.' Suki replied, 'OK, I will look for it.' Suki cried and cried after Grandpa died.

It was raining heavily, but Suki didn't care about it.

She got on a boat and started setting off for an island to find Grandpa's treasure. She didn't give up no matter how hard it was.

After a few days, Suki arrived at the island. She was so tired after so many days. Then she saw the owner of the island. The owner of the island said, 'Hey! What are you doing here? What do you do to my field?' He looked angry. Suki said, 'My grandpa said there was a treasure under a tree. Could you tell me where it is?' The owner looked angry but he was actually a nice person. Then he showed her the way.

In the end, Suki was happy that she found the treasure. She said, 'Grandpa! I did it! You would be proud of me.'
