

John's Picnic

It is Saturday. It is sunny. John and his parents go to May Park and have a picnic. They have a lot of food and drinks, for example, bananas, cookies, orange juice, sausages and apples. They are having a great time.

Suddenly, a small naughty monkey from the tree jumps onto the table and takes away all the bananas. It is surprisingly fast. It runs away fast.

Dad chases the little naughty monkey. He is annoyed. Dad is very angry. He shouts, 'Hey! Stop! You naughty monkey, don't take away our bananas!' Dad keeps running after the monkey. John says, 'Oh no! It is too fast. We have to help!' Mum replies, 'Ok, let's go!'

In the end, Mum and John rush to help Dad. They catch the naughty monkey and take the bananas back. They go back to the table to eat. They have a very filling and tasty meal. They have a wonderful time.
